DIMENSIONAL VARIANCES AND CERTIFICATE OF APPROPRIATENESS – MORTON LAW FIRM – WARD 4

Before any vote was taken on this item the following discussion was held:

Ronnie Morton the owner of the property appeared before the board to state his case for approval of the variances. He described his firm as an eldercare firm. His clients represented persons 65 years and older. He has clients all over the state and that the client meetings were few and short. He stated that he was a long term resident of Clinton and planned on staying in Clinton for the foreseeable future. He informed the board that the site was previously approved for commercial use. That the site was located in a mixed use district and the area where this site was located was a busy commercial area. This was a street of five houses with apartments on one side and commercial businesses on the other side. He also stated he believed that the property fit the grandfather clause of the Planning and Zoning ordinance. He discussed some of the fears the neighbors had. He said that there was no proof of reduced property values and there was no proof that the neighbors would have problems converting their property to commercial use. Finally, he said that there had been no complaints from the neighborhood of other commercial sites in the area.

Amy Hudson living at 305 East College Street appeared before the board to speak against granting the variances. She stated that her and her husband had purchased their home eleven years ago and renovated the house to be their home. She did not want her home to be surrounded by parking lots with persons coming and going all day long. She stated that she had helped with getting petitions signed against allowing this business to locate in their neighborhood. She also could not understand why Mr. Morton wanted to force his way into a residential neighborhood where the neighbors did not want his business.

Macie Dean living at 311 East College Street was next to appear before the board to speak against granting the variances. She stated that her family purchased their home in 2008. She was excited and felt the area was perfect for a family. They had spent many hardworking hours renovating their home so they could live in it. She also stated that placement of a commercial property at this location would replace a family that could move in and occupy the house as a residence.

Finally, Bill Quisenberry appeared before the board to speak against granting the variances. He lived on East Main Street for four generations. He stated that the area has grown and that there are now several apartments and duplexes in the area. He felt that the area was at a tipping point and felt the area should remain residential and that commercial businesses did not fit in this neighborhood.

After listening to the parties for and against this item several board members made the following comments:

Alderman Cronin stated that he reviewed all of the information and listened to all of the comments made on this issue. He stated that he did not think values would be harmed. He felt that in a mixed use area you must have both residential and commercial property. However, he said that he did not support granting the variances and that this area should remain residential.

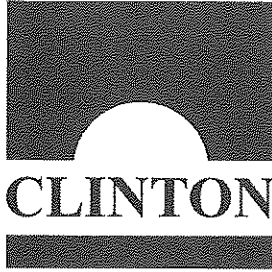

Alderman Brabham stated that he had considered three criteria in making his decision on how to vote on this issue. 1. Variances should be hard to get approved. Variances are not intended to be a convenience. 2. Is there an acceptable use for the property if the variances are denied. In this case the use would be residential. 3. What is the impact on the neighborhood. He felt based on his review of the information and the comments made that there would be a negative impact on the neighborhood if the variances were granted.

Alderman Martin stated that the 100-foot requirement was made to restrict commercial business from moving into residential areas. He did not believe that this request for a variance was appropriate.

After the discussion of this matter, the following motion was made:

Upon presentation by Roy Edwards, Director of Community Development, MOTION made by Alderman Cronin and SECONDED by Alderman Brabham the board moved to deny the requested variance pursuant to Section 3004.07 of the current zoning ordinance and that the basis for the denial is the finding of fact that granting the variance would be injurious to the neighborhood and otherwise injurious to the public welfare. This is based on the testimony and documentation before this Board. ALDERMAN BRABHAM VOTED AYE, ALDERMAN ELLIS VOTED AYE, ALDERMAN MARTIN VOTED AYE, ALDERMAN BARNETT VOTED AYE, ALDERMAN CRONIN VOTED AYE, ALDERWOMAN COSSITT VOTED AYE, AND ALDERMAN CASHION VOTED AYE
